Monday 8th October 2018: Helen Iles “My Journey with a Camera”.

About Helen: I discovered photography as a student, and instantly fell in love with the ability of freeze time, to make something from nothing. I'm 10 years into this photography adventure. It's got me out and up into some of the most incredible mountain landscapes I'd never have seen. I now wild camp and lug kit into some of the most extreme landscapes Wales can throw at me, just to capture that elusive moment of light, that magical dawn or low lying wisps of cloud.

Simplicity and composition are key to me. Less is more, I like clever creations. I like emotion captured with the click of a shutter. I like originality.
